1. Information We Collect

We collect personal information only when it is necessary to provide our services or respond to your inquiries. The categories of information we may collect include:

- Contact information - name, email address, phone number, and company name provided when you complete a contact form, book a discovery call, or send us an email.
- Diagnostic tool data - if you request the full report from the Revenue Engine Audit, your name, work email, company, revenue range and your audit answers and scores are sent to Dean Reid by email so he can follow up. Answers to tools you do not submit stay in your browser.
- Newsletter data - if you subscribe to The Revenue Leak Brief, your first name, email address, the page you subscribed from and the date of your consent.
- Inquiry and communication data - the content of messages, questions, or information you voluntarily submit through the Site or via direct communication.
- Usage data - information automatically collected when you visit the Site, including your IP address, browser type, referring URL, pages visited, and time spent on the Site (collected via Google Analytics 4 and Microsoft Clarity).
- Cookies and tracking technologies - small files placed on your device to support Site functionality and analytics. See Section 7 for details.
- Scheduling data - if you book a call through our Google Calendar scheduling link, Google collects and processes scheduling information under its own privacy policy.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use personal information collected through the Site for the following purposes:

- To respond to inquiries and communicate with prospective and current clients.

- To comply with applicable legal obligations.
- To protect the security and integrity of the Site.

We do not sell, rent, or trade your personal information to third parties for their own marketing purposes. We do not use your information for automated decision-making or profiling that produces legal or similarly significant effects.

3. Legal Basis for Processing

Under PIPEDA, we collect, use, and disclose personal information only with your knowledge and consent, except where the law provides otherwise. By submitting your information through our Site or contact channels, you consent to its collection and use as described in this Policy.

You may withdraw consent at any time by contacting us at the address in Section 10. Withdrawal of consent may limit our ability to respond to your inquiries or provide certain services.

4. Sharing Your Information

We may share your personal information with trusted third-party service providers who assist us in operating the Site and delivering our services, including:

- LinkedIn Insight Tag - to measure visits from LinkedIn, report company-level audience demographics, and show Optivus content on LinkedIn to people who have visited the Site.
- Company-identification services - may identify the organization (not the individual) associated with a visiting IP address, so we can understand which companies read our content.
- Google Sheets and Google Apps Script - to store diagnostic report requests, newsletter signups and SPARK report requests in our Google Workspace account and notify us by email.
- FormSubmit - a backup service that may deliver report requests and newsletter signups to our inbox.
- Google Workspace - for email communication and document management.

- GitHub Pages - for hosting the Site. GitHub does not process personal information on our behalf beyond standard server logs.

All third-party service providers are required to protect your information and may only use it for the specific purposes for which it was shared. We do not authorize any service provider to use your personal information for their own independent purposes.

We may disclose personal information if required by law, court order, or regulatory authority, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of Optivus, our clients, or the public.

5. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected or as required by law:

- Inquiry and contact data - retained for up to 2 years from the date of last contact, unless an ongoing client relationship exists.
- Client engagement records - retained for 7 years following the conclusion of an engagement, in accordance with standard Canadian business record-keeping requirements.
- Analytics data - aggregated, anonymized data may be retained indefinitely for Site improvement purposes.
